November 1957

Please Read This before Ordering.

IN presenting this Catalogue to our patrons, we would beg leave to return our thanks for the liberal patronage of the past, and trust to be favored with a continuance of the same.

Purchasers unacquainted with the different varieties of plants, leaving the selection with us,—stating the sum they wish to expend, and the object they wish to effect,—may depend upon receiving the best sorts and best plants.

In affixing prices to the various classes and varieties, it is difficult to always give the exact price, as the sizes vary, so we give only a price that will insure a good, strong, healthy plant and a first-class variety. It is our aim to deal in only the very best varieties.

Orders.—Parties ordering will please use the "ORDER SHEET," which will greatly facilitate their execution. If mixed up in the body of the letter, mistakes are almost unavoidable.

Persons starting in business, or florists in want of stock, will find it to their advantage to call upon us.

Shipping.—All plants sent out by us will be carefully packed and delivered in Lowell, and shipped or forwarded according to directions, after which they are at the risk of the purchaser.

We have for sale, this season, an unusually large and complete stock of Green-house and Bedding Plants, Evergreens, Shrubs, Vines, etc. We would earnestly request a personal inspection of the same. Those, however, favoring us with orders, may fully rely on our using every exertion to give perfect satisfaction.

Orders by mail or express will receive prompt and careful attention.

All orders from unknown correspondents must be accompanied with cash or satisfactory reference.

Hyacinths, Tulips, Tuberoses, and other Bulbous Roots imported fresh every year.

 Liberal discount on large orders and to the trade.

NEW GERANIUMS.

Advance. A splendid, bright scarlet; large, lovely shape; very smooth and round.

Ajax.

Belle Nanceined.

Boule Noire. This is the largest, darkest, and the roundest truss of any variety yet raised; the nearest to a black or purple.

Danae.

Hollyhock. This variety resembles a Hollyhock very much. Its extended front guard, or outer rounded petal, stands out beyond the double-rosette centre petals; brilliant scarlet, shaded yellow: a double guinea.

Joyful Improved. Individual flowers and trusses; very large and fine, and is what its name implies; soft magenta, with a distinct edging of orange-scarlet.

Lady Reed. A grand improvement in oculated varieties; pure white, with a large, scarlet centre; shape and size of petals almost equal to the scarlet section.

La Cygne.

Lord Derby. So large and bright, both pip and truss, that at first sight it looks like one huge mass of fiery pink.

Mrs. Bowen. A beautiful blush-color, distinct and pleasing; dwarf, bushy habit.

Mrs. Robertson. Very free and dwarf, flowers and trusses large; bright rose-pink.

Mr. J. Barriff. A most useful variety for growing into specimens, quite distinct in color; deep rosy salmon, with a very intense orange-scarlet centre; trusses large and freely produced.

Pharos. Another step towards a perfect double white, although no whiter than others; it has a larger pip and truss, with a free, fine habit.

Queen of the Belgians. This variety is certainly the best single white yet produced, and brings the whites nearly up to the size and shape of the colored varieties.

Price, 50 cts. each.

NEW BOURBON ROSE.

Malmaison Rouge. A sprout from the well-known Souvenir de la Malmaison, possessing all the qualities of that variety, with deep velvety red flowers; a most valuable variety.

Price, 50 cts. each; $5.00 per doz.

DOUBLE WHITE VIOLET.

Swanley White. By far the best Double White Violet in cultivation. It very much resembles the good old "Neapolitan" in growth, with a larger flower and flower foot-stalks, and is for choice bouquets and cut-flowers quite a gem.

Price, 35 cts. each.

GENERAL COLLECTION.

ABUTILONS.

These plants have extremely beautiful flowers, being richly veined and striped, suitable for the garden or greenhouse; flowers bell-shaped.

A beautiful, hardy climber, attaining a height of twenty feet. Flowers chocolate-purple color; very fragrant. Price, 25 cts. each.

ARALIA FILICIFOLIA.

An ornamental stone-plant, graceful in habit, and well furnished with foliage. One of the most valuable decorative plants of its family. The stem and leaf-stocks are purplish, thickly marked with oblong white spots, with leaves expanding into a broad, leafy limb, which is imparipinnately divided. Price, 75 cts. each.

ARALIA SIEBOLDII.

A beautiful, ornamental plant, alike useful in the conservatory or the sub-tropical garden; leaves palmate, deeply lobed, bright green. Price, 50 cts. to $1.00 each.

AGERATUM MEXICANUM.

An easily-grown garden-favorite; good bedder; flowers blue. Price, 10 cts. each; $1.00 per doz.

ALOYSIA CITRIODORA.

Well known as the "Lemon-Scented Verbena." Indispensable in every garden, for the delightful fragrance of its leaves. Price, 15 cts. each; $1.50 per doz.

ASTILBE JAPONICA.

(Spiræa Japonica.)

One of the most beautiful of all hardy herbaceous plants, growing about eighteen inches high, with foliage of a dark, glossy green, flowering in spikes of pure white, feather-like flowers; a valuable plant for winter-flowering. Price, 25 cts. each; $2.50 per doz.

ANEMONE HONORINE JOBERT.

A beautiful herbaceous plant, producing large white flowers from August to October; grows two to three feet high. Price, 25 cts. each; $2.50 per doz.

ANTHERICUM VITATUM VARIEGATUM.

A useful and beautiful variegated-leaf plant; one of the best for hanging-baskets. Price, 25 cts. each; $2.50 per doz.

AGAVE AMERICANA VARIEGATA.

(Century Plant.)

No plants are more decorative or more effective than these; they require but little attention, and may be wintered under the stage of the greenhouse, or in a dry, warm cellar. Price, 50 cts. to $1.00 each.

AZALEA INDICA.

We have a large variety of this valuable species, too numerous to describe, consisting of all the leading varieties. Price, 50 cts. to $3.00 each.

HARDY AZALEAS.

Of all the hardy flowering-shrubs, none, perhaps, afford such a variety in color as the Azaleas, for almost every shade of pink, white, yellow, orange, and scarlet is to be found among them; and as they generally flower in great profusion, and are, many of them, deliciously scented, they deserve to be universally planted. The following varieties are perfectly hardy, and will flourish wherever Rhododendrons are grown.

BEGONIA GLAUCOPHYLLA SCANDENS.

A drooping or creeping variety, with large clusters of rich salmon-colored flowers; very desirable for hanging-baskets. Price, 25 cts. each.

BEGONIA.

We have a large collection of this popular plant. The class of which B. Rex is a type, is extensively used for baskets, vases, ferneries, etc. Of the winter-flowering varieties, B. Fuchsioides, B. Weltoniensis, are representatives, producing a profusion of pink, white, and carmine flowers during the entire winter months. Price, 25 cts. each; $2.50 to $4.50 per doz.

BEGONIA.

(Tuberous Rooted.)

We have a fine collection, consisting of some of the best named varieties. In June and July we shall have a large lot of seedlings saved from the best named sorts. Price, named varieties, 50 cts. to $1.00; seedlings, 35 cts. each, $3.50 per doz.

BEGONIA DIAMANT.

A beautiful variety of the Rex type, with medium-sized foliage, of a rich silvery hue, tinted with rosy pink; dwarf habit. Price, 25 cts. each.

BEGONIA METALLICA.

Perhaps of all the ornamental-foliaged Begonias, none are so beautiful as this; and for a window or drawing-room plant, it is without a rival. Price, 25 cts. each.

BEGONIA RUBRA.

One of the finest winter-flower variety. The flowers are scarlet-rose, glossy, and wax-like, very large and freely produced. Price, 25 cts. each; $2.50 per doz.

BOUGAINVILLEA SPECTABILIS.

A handsome, free-flowering greenhouse climber, of very rapid growth; flowers rich mauve color. Price, 50 cts. each.

RHODODENDRONS.

We would call the attention of our patrons to our superior stock of hardy Rhododendrons. These beautiful plants are yet but little cultivated, undoubtedly in a great degree from the general impression that they are difficult to manage, requiring special care and what is called peat soil; and it was at one time believed that they would not thrive in any other. Experience, however, proves the contrary, and it is now found that Rhododendrons thrive in almost any soil that does not contain lime. Strong plants, well set with buds, from two to three feet high, $2.00 to $5.00 each.

One of the best plants for edgings or ribbon-lines, growing about a foot high. Price, 15 cts. each; $1.50 per doz.

SANCHEZIA NOBILIS VARIEGATA.

A very handsome hot-house plant, with leaves from twelve to fifteen inches long, beautifully veined, and marbled with deep, golden yellow. Price, 30 cts. to 50 cts. each.

SEDUM.

(Stone Crop.)

The Sedums belong to the same family as the Echeverias and Sempervivums. Being succulent plants, they are among the most valuable plants we have for hanging-baskets, vases, and rock-work. They are also extensively used for the edging of beds, or forming outer marginal lines, being dwarf and compact. The flowers of some of the varieties are very beautiful. They are of the easiest culture, either for garden or parlor decoration.

SEMPERVIVUMS.

(House Leek.)

A succulent genus of plants allied to the Sedums. They are unsurpassed for rock ornamentation, many of them being hardy.

SIBTHORPIA EUROPEA.

A neat little plant of creeping habit, very effective when grown in baskets, giving it a graceful appearance; an excellent plant for rock-work, moss-baskets, etc. Price, 10 cts. each; 75 cts. per doz.

STATICE HALFORDI.

One of the most beautiful green-house plants, with large, broad, light green foliage; flowers bright blue and white, very showy, and remain in perfection two or three months if kept in a cool house. Price, $1.00 to $5.00 each.

STEPHONOTIS FLORABUNDA.

A beautiful old vine, with deliciously fragrant flowers, which are borne in clusters similar to Bouvardia, but of much heavier and wax-like texture; fine for cut-flowers. Price, 25 cts. to 50 cts. each; $2.50 to $5.00 per doz.

TORENIA ASIATICA.

A very pretty summer-plant, with small blue flowers, gloxinia-like shaped; well adapted for summer-baskets, vases, etc. Price, 25 cts. each; $2.50 per doz.

TRITOMAS.

Splendid, half-hardy border-plants, flowering from July to October, and produce long spikes of orange-red and scarlet tubular flowers, each raceme from one to two feet in length. They are well-adapted for forming large, effective groups and beds, in which the numerous, terminal, flame-colored blossoms have a fine effect. Price, 25 cts. each; $2.50 per doz.

TUBEROSE.

One of the choicest summer-flowering bulbs; the flowers are white and very fragrant; indispensable for making bouquets. Price, started in pots, $3.00 per doz.; dry roots, $1.00 per doz.

TUBEROSE.

(Pearl.)

This variety is generally conceded superior to the old variety; the flowers are of double the size, and imbricated like a rose; of dwarf habit, growing only two feet in height. Price, dry roots, $1.00 per doz.; started in pots, $3.00 per doz.

VINCA VARIEGATA.

A beautiful fast-growing plant, with bright green leaves, edged with yellow, and flowers of deep blue. Well adapted for baskets, rock-work, or vases. Price, 15 cts. to 50 cts. each; $1.00 to $4.50 per doz.

SWEET-SCENTED VIOLET.

(Marie Louise.)

This is undoubtedly the best violet offered for years. It surpasses all other varieties in the profusion of its flowers. In color it is darker than the Neapolitan violet, double its size, and quite as fragrant. Price, 25 cts. each.

HEDGE PLANTS.

(Evergreen. Stone.)

The idea of planting hedges for use and ornament, and screens for the protection of orchards, farms, and gardens, is a practical one, and rapidly becoming appreciated. Among the trees adapted to ornamental hedges the American Arbor Vitæ and the Norway Spruce take the first place. By using medium-sized plants a hedge can be made as cheaply as a good board fence can be built, and then, with very little care, it is becoming every year more and more "a thing of beauty." We all know that such hedges constitute the principal attraction in our best-kept places.

American Arbor Vitæ. $8.00 to $25.00 per hundred.
